

Please do not allow cell phone use during flights. As a frequent passenger I would find this to be air pollution of a new and unwelcome kind. I also believe it will slow down cabin service because of inconsiderate passengers who will make flight attendants wait while for their orders as they continue talking on the phone. And free use of phones in flight would enable terrorists to better coordinate attacks. In these very close quarters you should not add another stressor. This is a bad idea which cannot be made palatable--even by restricting use to a certain part of the aircraft. Keep them turned off!!!
